Mysuru, Apr.15 (MTY&BCT)- In the run up to the Assembly election, Rapid Action Force teams, along with other Paramilitary Forces, have taken over city security. The Forces, along with the city Police, are conducting route marches all along the city to instil confidence among the voters and to inspire them to participate in the electoral process in a free and fair manner.

This morning, they conducted a route march along with their vehicles with convoys of PCR, Garuda, and Vajra vehicles leading the march.

Over seven companies of Paramilitary Forces (each company consists of 80-150 soldiers and usually commanded by a Major or a Captain) have arrived in Mysuru and Forces are drawn from the Border Security Force (BSF), Sashastra Seema Bal (SSB), Indo-Tibetan Border Police (ITBP) and the Rapid Action Force (RAF).

While four companies will maintain order in city limits, three companies will be deployed in rural areas. They will visit each locality and each street in Chamaraja, Narasimharaja, Krishnaraja and Chamundeshwari constituencies.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

The recent instance of the Indian Railways receiving 25 million applications to fill 90,000 vacancies is the tip of the iceberg. India's jobs challenge is not just one of creating jobs for the entrants into the labour force, but also one of creating "better paying productive jobs" for the large swathes of workers trapped in poorly-paid and low-productivity jobs in the informal sector. So, what fits the bill of a "good productive job"? A salaried job or a self-employed one? The government has put its weight behind the latter, arguing that India's youth should aspire to become job-creators and not job-seekers. The World Bank, on the other hand, in a Systematic Country Diagnostic for India, has asserted that the need of the hour is to create more regular, salaried jobs. The Labour Bureau's most recent Annual Household Employment Survey for the period 2015-16 reports that the share of the self-employed and wage-salary earners in employment is at 46.6 per cent and 17 per cent, respectively. An examination of the distribution of monthly earnings of the self-employed and wage-employed indicates that, on average, the latter are much better off than the former. What is particularly striking is that about 85 per cent of the self-employed earn Rs. 10,000 or less a month while a minuscule 0.5 per cent earn more than Rs. 50,000 each month. The concentration of the self-employed in such a low average earnings group makes it difficult to comprehend how India's self-employed subsist, let alone become job-creators.

Smart travelling tip!

London: A young bargain hunter recently managed to show just how insanely expensive train tickets in the UK can be, by buying a car, petrol, insurance and road tax for it and still spending less than the cost of just one train ticket for a 100 mile trip.

27-year-old Tom Church, from London, wanted to visit a friend in Bristol, just 100 miles away, but was put off by the high cost of a train ticket. After seeing a photo of a £218 ($311) train ticket for the same route, Tom was both outraged and inspired to come up with a cheaper alternative. He bought cheaper used car for the trip. "I found the car on Gumtree," Tom Church said. " It's a very old car, 1997 Honda Civic, but the MOT was fine. Plus, the engine was small enough that I could get the cheapest road tax. The total cost was £206.81. Less than just one train ticket. Tom, who is co-founder of voucher code site LatestDeals, said that he'll probably end up selling his used car after the 100-mile trip, and since unused road tax can be refunded to him, he might even end up making a profit.

Veg diet caused her Spinal Neuron damage

Wuhan: A 50-year-old woman in Wuhan, China, was recently diagnosed with severe spinal neuron damage caused by a lack of Vitamin B12 following strict vegetarian diet for over thirty years.

The woman, surnamed Chen, started her vegetarian diet in her 20s, to lose weight, and due to its amazing results, she decided to continue for life. However, she never imagined that her seemingly healthy diet would put her at risk of becoming paralyzed. Advanced tests showed that her spinal neurons were damaged, a condition usually observed in diabetic or malnourished patients, and further investigations revealed that Chen was suffering from severe vitamin B12 deficiency. Since this vitamin plays a key role normal functioning of the nervous system, this deficiency was responsible for her neurological symptoms. While Chen's doctors acknowledged that switching to a vegetarian diet did help her lose weight, in the long-run it was responsible for her vitamin B12 deficiency and recommend her to included B12-rich fish, olive oil and other good fats, or at least consume B12-fortified foods and/or supplements.

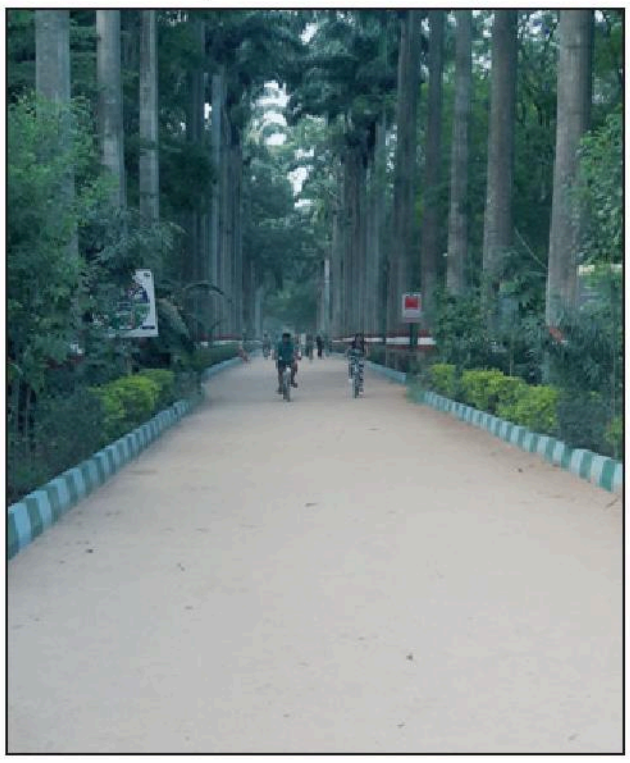
VOICE OF THE READER

Karanji Lake: Good work but strange rules

Sir,

While I appreciate all the good work done by the authorities in Karanji Lake, there are a few things which I want to bring it to the notice of the authority.

Recently I happened to visit the Karanji Lake over the weekend. I had my kids and parents along with me. With my aged parents not able to do the complete walk in one stretch, I had a mobile collapsible chair with me. Everything was fine until the security guard stopped me and asked me to put back the mobile chair back in my car. When I questioned, he said that there are many chairs available all over the Lake and we need not bring our own chair.



As you see in the photograph, in the long stretch there is not even a single chair. I was not able to convince him that this chair is for my parents who stop at points and sit before they walk the complete stretch. I had to give up the argument as all the guards gathered together and started pushing me out.

I am not able to understand this strange rule. I request the Zoo Authority, under whom the Karanji Lake comes, to help me understand this strange rule. Are you trying to help people spend some peaceful time around the Lake or put people into trouble? Please modify all such junk rules or put more chairs along the path.

In 3 days, Kumaraswamy to cover Chamundeshwari's 100 villages

Mysuru, Apr.15 (RK&DM)- Even as Chamundeshwari Assembly Constituency has turned into prestigious battleground between Congress and JD(S), with Chief Minster Siddharamaiah announcing that he would be contesting from Chamundeshwari, JD(S) State President and former CM H.D. Kumaraswamy kicked-off his second round of poll campaign in the constituency yesterday.

The three-day campaign rally covering nearly 100 villages in the Constituency commenced with Kumaraswamy garlanding Dr. B.R. Ambedkar statue in front of Town Hall and later offering prayers at Sri Nanneshwara Temple in Hinkal along with the Party's sitting MLA G.T. Devegowda (GTD).

The Road Show, which was part of the campaign rally started from Hinkal on the outskirts of the city where hundreds of JD(S) workers and leaders offered garlands to Kumaraswamy, while women offered a 'Purnakumbha Swagata.'

The JD(S) leader held Road Shows in a specially designed vehicle 'Vikasa Vahini' in 27 villages including Kote Hundi, Kenchalagudu, D. Saluhundi, Madduru Hundi, Chuncharayanahundi and Beerihundi among others.

Earlier, speaking to press persons after garlanding Dr. Ambedkar statue at Town Hall, Kumaraswamy said that the people of the State had decided to make him a King and thus he will not be King Maker.

Ridiculing the decision of the CM to contest from two seats, he said that fearing defeat in Chamundeshwari, Siddharamaiah has decided to contest form Badami Constituency.

Exuding confidence that GTD will win by a huge margin, he dismissed pre-poll surveys being telecast by news channels saying that the JD(S) will be the King and not King Maker.

Claiming that he had done more development works in Chamundeshwari when compared to others, he said that the image of the party has enhanced and the people are looking for an alternative to the BJP and Congress. Accusing the Chief Minister of neglecting Chamundeshwari Constituency, he appealed to the people to vote for JD(S) so that the party can come to power on its own.

Amidst his poll campaign in the segment, Kumaraswamy took a break to attend 'Kumaraparva' rally at H.D. Kote.

Today, the JD(S) leader will cover 33 villages including Lingambudhipalya, Alanahalli, Kalastawadi and Siddalingapura. On the third day tomorrow (Apr.16), he will cover a total of 38 villages including Belavadi, Kallur Naganahalli, Huyilalu and Bommanahalli, besides holding a road show at Hootagalli in the outskirts of the city. Kumaraswamy will hold road shows in all the villages travelling in his customised 'Vikasa Vahini' vehicle. The former CM will use another smaller customised vehicle in villages having narrow roads.

Siddu to campaign from tomorrow

Close on the heels of JD(S) State President H.D. Kumaraswamy's three-day campaign in Chamundeshwari, Chief Minster Siddharamaiah, who is camping in Delhi to finalise the Congress list, has decided to campaign in Chamundeshwari segment for five days starting from tomorrow.

The Chief Minister is expected to reach Mysuru by flight and will start his second leg of campaign in Chamundeshwari from Monday.

Siddharamaiah is likely to cover four hoblis and prominent villages other than knocking the doors of Veerashaiva, Dalit, Nayaka and other community leaders.

The CM is likely to campaign in Chamundeshwari till Apr.20.

He will also hold meetings with leaders of Varuna Constituency and will campaign for his son Dr. Yathindra, who is taking on B.Y. Vijayendra, son of BJP State President and former CM B.S. Yeddyurappa, according to a source.

No extension of voting time, says Chief Electoral Officer

Bengaluru, Apr.15- Chief Electoral Officer Sanjiv Kumar has said that the Election Commission (EC) had no plans to increase time for voting on May 12.

Speaking at a media interaction jointly organised by Press Club of Bengaluru and Bengaluru Reporters Guild here yesterday, Sanjiv Kumar said that it was difficult to extend the time since logistics of 58,000 polling booths had to be worked out.

Pointing that there were currently 4.96 crore voters in the State, he said that with new voters registering themselves in large numbers, the number may go beyond five crore.

Sanjiv Kumar

Announcing that the EC has set 58,000 Polling Booths across the State, he said that 3.65 lakh personnel will be deployed for election work.

"At least five dedicated all-women polling booths called 'Pink Polling Booths' will be set-up in city areas and one booth in villages," he added.

Continuing, Sanjiv Kumar said that the EC will be setting up booths in the basements of the building to facilitate the physically challenged and senior citizens to cast their votes.

Referring to complaints by several independent candidates wishing to contest the Assembly elections not being allowed to hold rallies and meetings, he clarified that any candidate either independent or belonging to a party, can do so only after filing nomination papers.

"Permission cannot be granted till such a time as it will be violation of various laws, including IPC, Representation of Peoples Act, Police Act and Municipal Laws too," he added.

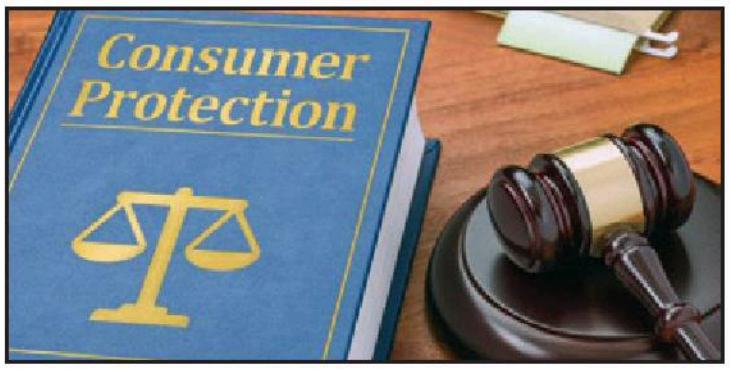
Rs.43 crore sized

Sanjiv Kumar said that EC has set up 2,500 check-posts in the State to track poll irregularities.

Pointing out that the Commission has so far seized Rs.43 crore worth valuables and cash since the Model Code of Conduct came into force, he said that the flying squads' vehicles equipped with GPS have been enforcing the Model Code of Conduct.

Consumer Court asks Railways to pay ex-employee's medical bill

Mysuru, Apr. 15- The Mysuru District Consumer Disputes Redressal Forum has ordered South Western Railways (SWR) to pay a compensation of Rs. 29,593 with 10 percent interest rate to its former employee as medical reimbursement for not treating him at its hospital in Mysuru.



Anantharamu, son of late Krishnoji Rao and a resident of 10th Cross, Hebbal Second Stage in Mysuru was a technician at SWR and is entitled to avail medical benefit and free treatment at the Railway Hospital. He suffered a fracture on his knee when the car in which he was travelling met with an accident on April 29, 2016.

Anantharamu had gone to the SWR Hospital at Mysuru for treatment. The doctors advised him to undergo treatment at K.R. Hospital as there was no medical facility available at the Railway Hospital.

However, shortage of beds and other facilities at K.R. Hospital forced Anantharamu to get admitted to JSS Hospital for treatment. He was discharged from the hospital on May 9, 2016, after surgery and treatment. He incurred Rs. 29,593 as cost for treatment. He submitted relevant documents for reimbursement of medical expenses claims on July 28, 2016.

The SWR repudiated the claims stating that Anantharamu had availed treatment at an unrecognised private hospital. The SWR contended that though the injuries were not an emergency they had referred the patient to K.R. Hospital as there was no specialist doctor available with them. But the complainant availed the treatment at an unrecognised private hospital, without prior permission from them, they contended.

Anantharamu, through Advocate Dinesh Solanki, filed a complaint at the Consumer Forum on Oct. 3, 2017 and claimed treatment expenses of Rs. 29,593 and a compensation of Rs. 60,000 towards mental agony, hardship suffered and Rs. 10,000 towards litigation expenditure with other relief.

Upon issuance of notice, the SWR authorities failed to appear and defend the allegations. However, SWR sent a reply on Nov. 2, 2017 stating that the claim for reimbursement would be considered and admissible amount as per rules would be directly deposited to his bank account subsequent to vetting of claims by their Finance Department.

Hearing the case, the Court observed that after the lapse of more than a year, the Railways assured to reimburse the admissible medical expenses.

"The opposite party (Railways) by rejecting the claims, and later assuring to reimburse the admissible medical expenses duly vetted by their Finance Department, certainly amounts to deficiency in service and has caused mental agony and hardship to the complainant. As such, we opine the Railways is liable to reimburse the entire medical treatment expenses with interest and also liable to pay compensation for the deficiency in service and damages for the mental agony and hardship caused," the Court observed.

The Consumer Forum, headed by President H.M. Shivakumara Swamy and Member B. M.C. Devakumar, directed it to pay Rs. 29,593 with 10 percent interest per annum from the date of claims made by the complainant to till this date within a month from this order, failing which, SWR must pay penalty of Rs. 100 per day until compliance. It also been directed to pay Rs. 5,000 towards deficiency in service and Rs. 3,000 for mental agony and Rs. 2,000 towards litigation expenses.

Trained canines to tackle terror and crime in city

Mysuru, Apr. 15 (RK&US)- With the city growing multi-directionally coupled with a proportional growth of population, obviously cases of crimes too will be on the rise. Police personnel for detection of crimes need to have sophisticated gadgets.

A Dog Squad plays an equally important role in assisting Police in crime detection. To cite a few examples, bomb blast at City Court premises and presence of alleged explosive devise at People's Park were two incidents where the Dog Squad played a vital role.

CITY DOG SQUAD

The Dog Squad has an exclusive status in the City Police Department - located at the premises of City Armed Reserve (CAR) grounds at the foot of Chamundi Hill, the Dog Squad houses strong well-bred dogs belonging to Doberman, Labrador and German Shepherd breeds. Experts among them in crime detection are Bheema, Bharati, Rashmi and Jessy while Hari, Seema, Raksha and Dutta are for detecting explosives. Hero, Gaja and Balarama are good in detecting narcotics. Gaja and Balarama won silver medals at the State-level Police Duty Meet held recently.

FOOD AND SAFETY

The dogs are comfortably housed in individual kennels at the vast CAR grounds. Each room for the dogs has a fan and a mattress. As per the instructions of a veterinarian and nutritionist, the dogs are methodically fed meat, milk, egg, rice, ragi porridge, fish oil, calcium syrup and cooked vegetables.

HEALTH CHECK-UP

All the dogs are covered under medical insurance. Every dog is subjected to a thorough health check-up once a month at the Government Veterinary Hospital. In case of an emergency care or a surgery, the services of private veterinary clinics will also be utilised.

TRAINING

The dogs will initially be trained for a year at the CAR Police Training Centre at Adugodi in Bengaluru and then brought to Mysuru. Each dog will be assigned a Handler and an Assistant Handler who will be entrusted the responsibility of care taking, feeding and maintenance.

Once a week, the dogs are trained in swimming at the swimming pool in CAR grounds. Once in a fortnight, the dogs will be taken to Balamuri near Belagola, where they would be groomed to swim against the water flow which will be an arduous task. The CAR grounds has a separate Control Room for the Dog Squad, a well equipped kitchen, a maintenance register and a crime call register. The Dog Squad is maintained by one Police Inspector, one Sub-Inspector, 12 Constables, a sweeper and a cook.

RETIREMENT

The retirement age for Police dogs is 10 years. The senior-most dog now is Seema at 8 years, who will be retiring in 2019 and Dutta born in 2017 is the youngest dog.

K.M. Murthy

Emotional Bonding

Dogs obviously have an emotional bonding with humans. If the assigned handler is unavailable for two days, the corresponding dog refuses to eat. The dogs can take commands as good as humans. The Police dogs are used daily to inspect Railway Station, Bus Stand, DC's office and Court premises, according to K.M. Murthy, Inspector, Dog Squad.

Entry ticket scam at Mysuru Zoo

- Barcode e-ticket scanning machine under repair since six years
- City Zoo employees to petition ACB, Lokayukta
- Shivamogga Zoo Director to probe

Mysuru, Apr. 15 (MTY&BCT)- Three contract employees of the Sri Chamarajendra Zoological Gardens or Mysuru Zoo including a lady employee have been dismissed from service for irregularities in the ticket collection and checking counters where tourists are allowed inside after accepting the same tickets (mostly sold online) that are sold earlier to different tourists. The scam has caused considerable revenue loss to the Zoo. Added to this, the automated barcode scanning machine at the entrance to scan the online tickets is 'under repair' since six years and no effort has been made to repair it.

Additional Principal Chief Conservator of Forests and Member-Secretary, Zoo Authority of Karnataka (ZAK) B.P. Ravi has now ordered a probe into the ticket scam in the Zoo and Shivamogga Zoo Executive Director Chandrashekhar will investigate and submit a report to the ZAK.

A section of Zoo employees are also planning to file complaints with the Anti Corruption Bureau (ACB) and the Lokayukta seeking a probe as they feel that only an independent probe will reveal the truth instead of a probe by the Forest Department.

While the lady contract employee, who was working at the Zoo for over five years, (name withheld on request) was dismissed from service in the first week of March, the other two contract employees, who were ex-servicemen, Hiriyanna and Basappa were dismissed earlier.

TICKET RACKET

The ticket racket came to light on Mar.8, when the counter staff found that 40 tickets worth Rs. 50 each amounting to Rs. 2,000 issued to a tourist party from Tamil Nadu carried an earlier date. When the ticket collector saw the tickets he found that the dates printed on the tickets were that of three days earlier. Immediately, he brought it to the notice of Executive Director, Mysuru Zoo, C. Ravishankar (now In-charge). On Mar.10 (Saturday) they found one more ticket of Rs. 70 (as tickets for adults are priced at Rs. 70 on weekends and Sundays).

Investigations revealed that the tickets originated from one particular counter that was managed by the lady. She, however, denied the charge and said that her ID and password had been stolen and someone would have misused it. But as the tickets had originated from one particular counter which she was manning, the lady was dismissed from service.

BARCODE MACHINE DEFUNCT

Sources in the Zoo, however, told Star of Mysore that the lady's incident where tickets worth Rs. 2,000 and Rs. 70 were issued was just a tip of the iceberg. A mega scam is playing out in the Zoo since over 12 years with a handful of contract employees controlling the affairs at the Zoo.

Speaking on condition of anonymity, a Zoo employee said that the e-ticketing barcode scanning machine that was installed in 2012 to ensure transparency functioned only for three months and is in non-working condition since then. "The machine has not been repaired so far and nobody is bothered about it. The Zoo is controlled by a 'mafia' of over 10 contract employees and they are misleading the Executive Director too," he said.

MEAT, GRASS SUPPLY

"If an Executive Director takes stringent measures, he/ she is told that the animals are likely to be poisoned if the 'set system' is upset. Only one contractor has been supplying meat, vegetables, fruits, pulses, dry and fresh grass to the animals. His contract has not changed and he continues to hold his grip over the Zoo and there is no one to question him either on quality or quantity of the meat supplied," the Zoo employee said.

It may be recalled here that in 2016, the then Zoo Executive Director Kamala Karikalan had suspended four employees and she had stated then that the suspended employees had objected to the installation of CCTV cameras on the Zoo premises. They were also interfering in the recruitment process, she had stated. The suspension, however led to protests and ugly spats between the Executive Director, the suspended employees and their supporters.

ACCUSED MANAGE GATES

Some Zoo employees have direct connection with tour and travel agents and tourists are allowed inside the Zoo after giving them back-dated online tickets. "This is causing a huge revenue loss to the Zoo. This scam has not come to light as those employees who are involved in the racket themselves manage the entry gates," he added.

Sources in the Zoo said that a group of ex-servicemen were appointed on contract basis as Security Supervisors years back. "These Security Supervisors now call themselves as 'Security Officers' and they control the Zoo. It has been more than one year since the famed Butterfly Park in the Karanji Lake has been closed. They have closed the Butterfly Park to hide the theft of sandalwood trees from the Karanji Lake campus," the Zoo employee alleged.

He further alleged that over one truckload of Nilgiri trees had been chopped from the Zoo's extended unit at Koorgalli (Chamundi Wildlife Conservation, Rescue and Rehabilitation) and illegally transported to a saw mill in K.R. Nagar.

Fish death continues at Kukkarahalli Lake

Mysuru, Apr. 15 (MTY&KS)- Varieties of fish at Kukkarahalli Lake continue to die with more than 40 fish found floating in the lake this morning. The lake staff removed the dead fish.

It is suspected that sewage water from Paduvarahalli side flowing into the lake is the cause for the deaths.

The authorities have collected the samples of dead fish and have sent the same to a laboratory in Bengaluru and have also collected water samples for testing. The place where sewage water is flowing into the lake is emanating foul smell.

Morning walkers and environmentalists have urged the authorities to take steps to prevent the flow of sewage water.

Yesterday, alarmed by the death of a large number of fish at the Kukkarahalli Lake, environmentalists had alerted the Forest Department and a team collected samples of dead fish.

Council Dy. Chairman seeks withdrawal of order

Marithibbegowda

Mysuru, Apr.15 (MTY& US)- Deputy Chairman of Legislative Council Marithibbegowda has urged Department of PU Education to withdraw the unscientific notification indicating the reduction of summer holidays for PU lecturers.

Addressing a press meet at Pathrakartara Bhavan here yesterday, Marithibbegowda recalled that PU lecturers were eligible for two months summer holidays which is being reduced.

He pointed out that PU lecturers, in the interest of the students, used to take extra classes everyday and also were taking special classes on Sundays foregoing their weekly off.

He took a strong objection to the Board's decision to prune the summer holidays without consulting educationists, representatives of Lecturers' Association or Legislative Council Members.

Continuing, Marithibbegowda alleged that the State Government had not taken any steps to fill up 2,900 vacant posts of lecturers. He sought power for Principal of Colleges to appoint Guest Lecturers from the commencement of academic year.

Rapid Action Force takes over city Security

The route march of Rapid Action Force leaves Jayalakshmipuram Police Station this morning.

This morning the route march was conducted in Jayalakshmipuram, Vijayanagar, Hinkal, Yelwal, Agrahara, Ramaswamy Circle, Vidyaranyapuram and Kuvempunagar. Today's exercise was to familiarise the forces with city landscape and the topography, said City Police Commissioner Dr. A Subramanyeswara Rao.

The Rapid Action Force will be meant exclusively for the city to tackle election-related violence and terror threats. It is a specialised wing of the CRPF (Central Reserve Police Force) to deal with riot and crowd control situations.

The force is equipped with non-lethal weapons for dispersing the crowd with minimum harm and losses.

Over 120 members have arrived in city from 105 Battalion, Coimbatore as part of the Rapid Action Force deployment. Speaking to Star of Mysore, Rajitha, Deputy Commandant and Assistant Commandant Elangovan said that they will indulge in mobile patrolling of all the sensitive areas in city.

"Eight teams have come and there is an exclusive women's team to deal with women demonstrators or mischief-mongers. General maintenance of law and order, coordinating with the local Police, diffusing tense situation and controlling communal flare-ups are some of our responsibilities," they said.

Homage to Dr. B. R. Ambedkar

Yesterday, the 14th of April, was the 127th birthday of Dr. B.R. Ambedkar and it was celebrated all over the country with admiration and gratitude by schools, colleges and other organisations. There are many Ambedkar Bhavans also which celebrate his birthday as also arrange lectures on his thoughts and deeds.

It is my experience that even small villages have the statues of Dr. Ambedkar and if possible Ambedkar Bhavans. Thus people all over India have been paying homage to this savant who was a prominent person in drafting the Indian Constitution, in addition to being a champion spokesman of the downtrodden. Most of us are familiar with these two contributions of Dr. Ambedkar but not many are familiar with his illustrious career spanning over many decades.

Bhimrao Ramji Ambedkar, popularly known as Babasaheb, was born on 14th April 1891 in a village called Ambavadi of Ratnagiri district. Born into a family known as Mahars who belonged to the Harijan community, he was looked down upon with contempt. He decided to get good education and show to the people that Harijans could also become educated along with others. He obtained BA degree in 1912. The Maharaja of Baroda recognised this brilliant young man and sent him for higher education to Columbia University in America. A hard-working student, he naturally obtained a Master's degree with specialisation in Economics, Political Science and Sociology.

Not satisfied by Master's degree, he did research and obtained a Ph.D Degree. He did not settle down comfortably in America but wanted to serve his own countrymen, especially the downtrodden and he returned to India in 1917.

There were many invitations for him to become a professor when he returned with a Ph.D from Columbia. He accepted to be a professor at Sidenham College and worked there for some time. Again he went to America and on his return he went to London and completed his law degree and became a Barrister. There he wrote in 1922 a thesis on the subject of the problem of Indian rupee and obtained a D.Sc degree for this thesis. He returned to India in 1923.

Dr. B. R. Ambedkar

Then he enrolled himself as an advocate in Bombay High Court. Subsequently, he became a consultant for many financial organisations and earned a good name and fame. In 1926, he became a Member of the Bombay Legislative Council. He made speeches regarding many laws relating to land tax, hereditary land ownership, prohibition of consuming and sale of liquor etc. Thus he paved the way for many later reformers to work in this direction.

After the Simon Commission he became very active in propagating India getting independence. Observing his service in various fields and his scholarship, he was made the Principal of the Law College in 1935. He became an established advocate and many litigants thronged his office with an intention to handover their cases to him. They all felt that once Dr. Ambedkar took up their case, they would definitely win the cases. But Dr. Ambedkar chose only such cases in which there was justice. He did not charge any fee from the poor clients and argued their case effectively and tried to get them justice. Thus he became famous as poor clients' advocate and they all looked upto him as their saviour.

In spite of his multifarious activities he wrote articles on Law and Advocates. In his opinion advocates are an important limb of the society but they should not exploit the clients; they should be humane in their approach because they are dealing with human beings and laws are there only for the people of a country; advocates should not assume more importance than required; they should act as a bridge between the clients and the Judge/Justice and this knowledge is more important for all advocates. Such advocates can create a good society.

Dr. Ambedkar, though a busy advocate, visited the Government Law College Library regularly. He used to ask the librarian to get new books and journals to the library for the benefit of the concerned. Because of his main efforts that library was considered the best in the Bombay Province. In 1937, he became a Member of the Legislative Assembly. Next year he resigned to the post as Principal of the Law College to concentrate on writing articles and books. In 1940, he published a book called Thoughts on Partition. He argued that the country should not be divided on the basis of Hindus and Muslims as Hindustan and Pakistan. He gave the examples of Turkey, Greece, Bulgaria and other countries and said that we should not commit the same mistake as they did.

In 1942, he became a Member of Viceroy's Executive Council. In 1946, he came back to Bombay (now Mumbai) and started the Siddhartha College. In 1947, India became independent with the efforts of Mahatma Gandhi, Sardar Patel, Nehru and others. He was appointed as a Minister of Law in which field he was highly proficient.

In course of time, he was made an important member of drafting the Constitution. Incidentally, Kulapati Dr. K. M. Munshi, Founder of Bharatiya Vidya Bhavan (BVB) was also a member of the same Committee which drafted the Constitution along with others. The members of the Committee which drafted the Constitution have gone on record stating that Dr. Ambedkar's part in it was major. That was the personality of Dr. Ambedkar. He gave importance to fundamental rights such as equality and freedom of speech. He also argued these should apply to non-Hindus like Sikhs, Jains and Buddhists.

He also advocated divorce quoting ancient writers like Kautilya, Brihaspati, Jeemootavahana etc. But the Government did not accept all these provisions fully and hence Dr. Ambedkar resigned from the Ministry. Finding that the development of Harijans did not take place as he wanted, he embraced Buddhism is 1956 along with about 2 lakh Harijans. Ambedkar is not here with us today but he will live as long as our Constitution lasts. He is a real Bharat Ratna.

Opener Roy made the mockery of a listless Mumbai Indians bowling attack as he hammered six fours and as many sixes in his 53 ball knock to help Delhi overhaul the home team's 194/7 for their first win of the season. It was the third successive loss for MI and they remain without a point after three matches.

Hyderabad beat Kolkata

Captain Kane Williamson led from the front with a solid fifty as Sunrisers Hyderabad shrugged off initial wobble to beat Kolkata Knight Riders by five wickets in their IPL match yesterday.

Elderly man who attended Rahul's Mysuru rally goes missing

- Family from Nanjangud desperately search for senior citizen; lodges Police complaint
- Each person was offered Rs.2,200 and food to attend Mar.25 rally, says family

Nanjangud, Apr.15 (RS,MTY &BCT)- A senior citizen from Nanjangud, who was ferried from his village to attend Congress President Rahul Gandhi's rally in Mysuru on Mar.25, has not returned home till now. After running from pillar to post and even approaching political bigwigs, his desperate family members have now lodged a Police complaint.

The missing senior citizen is 65-year-old Rangadasaiah from Konanuru village in Nanjangud taluk and he is a voter from Varuna, the constituency represented by Chief Minister Siddharamaiah.

As part of his 'Janashirvad' Rally, Rahul Gandhi held a massive rally at the Maharaja's College Grounds and thousands of people from villages were ferried in buses and trucks by the Congress party to mobilise crowd. Rangadasaiah was in the private bus that took over 40 people from Konanuru on the morning of Mar.25.

The Congress rally concluded by 8.30 pm and as per plan, the villagers were carried back to Konanuru in the same bus and the vehicle returned at around 9.30 pm. But Rangadasaiah did not return. His son Kumar then spoke to a couple of villagers who told him that there was a massive crowd and they had waited for Rangadasaiah before heading home.

Kumar then searched for his father at the houses of his relatives and approached the Lakshmipuram Police in city where he was issued an NCR for his complaint. Kumar continued his search and lodged a complaint at Kavalande Police Station on Apr.1 and a missing person complaint was registered. Konanuru comes under Kavalande limits.

In the complaint, Kumar has named Puttarangaiah, Lingaraju, Naga and Sodaiah, local Congress leaders and has stated that they had taken the responsibility of ferrying back his father safely from the rally but failed to do so. The Police, on their part, had passed on the missing person's information to all Police Stations but so far, Rangadasaiah has not been traced. Family members have blamed the Congress leaders from Konanuru. Kumar is a daily wager and since Mar.26, he has been searching for his father in Mysuru and Mandya and he has not gone to work since then. Family members said that while taking Rangadasaiah to the rally, he was offered Rs.2,200, the amount fixed per person (along with food) to attend Rahul's rally.

The family members also met the Personal Assistant (PA) to CM Siddharamaiah who telephoned the jurisdictional Police. Investigating the case, the Police have questioned all those who had accompanied Rangadasaiah from Konanuru. They, however, claimed ignorance about seeing Rangadasaiah at the rally.

House burgled at Shakthinagar

Mysuru, Apr.15 (SBD&KS)- Burglars, who broke into a locked house at Shakthinagar here, have decamped with gold ornaments worth about Rs.2.10 lakh from the house. The burglary took place in the house of Hemavathi, who had locked the house on Apr.10 and had gone out of station. The incident came to light on Apr.12 night, when Hemavathi's neighbours saw the front door open with things scattered on the floor and informed Hemavathi over the phone.

Hemavathi, who returned the next day morning (Apr.13) inspected the wardrobe and found gold bangles, chain, necklace, earrings, finger rings and other valuables missing and lodged a complaint with Udayagiri Police.

Udayagiri Police, who have registered a case in this regard, are investigating.

It may be recalled that a few days back, burglars had broke into the house of one Tom Joseph in Vidyashankar Layout in Udayagiri Police limits and had decamped with gold ornaments worth lakhs of rupees.

As summer holidays for students have begun, it is common for the parents to take their children on long trips or short excursions by locking the house but failing to inform the Police to keep an eye on the house which is leading to such crimes.

The Police have once again urged the residents to inform them when they are locking the house and going on trips so that they could keep an eye on such houses to prevent thefts.

WORD OF THE DAY

Decathect

Pronunciation: Dee-kuh-thekt (Verb).

Meaning: To withdraw one's feelings of attachment from (a person, idea or object) as in anticipation of a future loss.

Origin: Decathect is an extremely rare word in English, used only in Freudian psychology. It is formed from the common prefix de-, signifying privation or removal, and the very rare verb cathect "to invest emotional energy." Cathect is a derivative of the adjective cathectic (from Greek kathektikós "capable of holding or retaining"), from the noun káthexis "holding, possession, retention." The English noun cathexis is an arcane translation or partial translation of Sigmund Freud's Besetzung, a common, ordinary word in German meaning "(military) occupation, cast (of a play)," from the verb besetzen "to occupy, stock, fill." Decathect entered English in the 20th century.

THE ODD WORD

Bilboes

PHRASE OF THE DAY

Greased Lightning

Meaning: Anything that's very fast or quick in terms of speed.

Example: The cheetah is the fastest land animal, capable of reaching speeds up to 70 mph. Someone might describe the speed of this animal by using this expression.

Origin: Lightning is known for being quick. As for lubricants like oil and grease, well, certain machinery tends to run smoother and faster when it is properly lubricated. Thus, for this phrase, the notion is that you if you greased up lightning, it would be even faster. The expression was in use at least as far back as the 1800s. For example, the expression is used in an English newspaper called The Boston, Lincoln, Louth & Spalding Herald, in January, 1833: "He spoke as quick as 'greased lightning."
